

Learn in Japan Working in Japan Working with Specified Skills

Specified Skills Japan Employment Program

Students will study at a Japanese language school (maximum 24 months) to raise their Japanese language level while passing the examination which is a requirement for obtaining a Specified Skills Worker Visa.

This program also allows students to pass employment exams while still in school and start work immediately after graduation.

The Specified Skills Worker Visa allows you to work in Japan for up to 5 years. If you work in the nursing care field for at least 3 years during the period and obtain a care worker qualification, you can move to the "Nursing Care" visa status.
